

C6

COMPOSITE JEWELRY DESIGN
by Anne Cohen

Danish prizewinning Journalist chooses C6 diamond ring

A prizewinning diamond ring for a prizewinning female journalist. Simi Jan, winner of the prestigious, Zontas prize choose a C6 diamond adorned, carbon-fiber, ring as part of her prize.

C6 -rings are strong and elegant designs by Anne Cohen, a testament to Danish design at it's best. Simi Jan was presented with a choice of ... jewellery designs to accompany her 25.000 DKr prize and her eye fell on C6. Prize money and ring were presented to the winner by Countess Alexander who is an honorary member of the Zonta organisation. The Zontas womans prize is awarded biennially to a woman for an extraordinary effort in helping other women.

Simi Jan has worked as a TV and columnist journalist in Afghanistan. She has managed to give the Danish public a privileged insight into the real struggles and everyday life of people in one of the worlds hot spots. Her efforts contributed greatly to preventing the closing of a crisis centre for woman subjected to violence in Afghanistan. In this manner she has helped to better the lives of woman in Afghanistan and offer the Danish public insight into the every day realities of the the lives of Muslim women in Afghanistan .

Anne Cohen was present at the award ceremony on the 13th of November and stated that she was very proud to be able to be a part of celebrating such a courageous pioneer as Simi Jans. Anne expressed that she felt honored that Simi Jans choice fell upon her C6 ring. Anne extended her congratulations and best wishes to the prize winner.